

SITE

Student Introduction to Engineering

UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS
MARCH 6, 1969

--	--	--

HERBERT BRUN

Born in Berlin, Germany, in 1918, Professor Brun began his study of music under Stefan Wolpe at the Jerusalem Conservatory in Israel. He continued his education at Columbia University in New York and at electronic studios in Paris, Cologne, and Munich. Since 1955, he has given numerous lectures and seminars on the function of music in society. He came to the University of Illinois in 1963 to do research on the significance of computer systems for composing music. Among Professor Brun's compositions are:

Mobile for Orchestra

Sonoriferous Loops

Gestures

Non Sequitur 6

Gesto for Piccolo, Flute, and Piano

Trio for Flute, Double Bass, and Percussion

Trio for Trumpet, Trombone, and Percussion

STUDENT INTRODUCTION TO ENGINEERING ENGINEERING OPEN HOUSE UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS, URBANA CAMPUS 6 P.M., MARCH 6, 1969

PROGRAM

Engineering Capabilities in Interdisciplinary Work

WELCOME

Vivian Brosey

General Chairman

Engineering Open House Central Committee

Professor D. C. Drucker

Dean, College of Engineering

DINNER

INTRODUCTION OF SPEAKER

David Houser

Chairman

SITE — Student Introduction to Engineering

SPEAKER

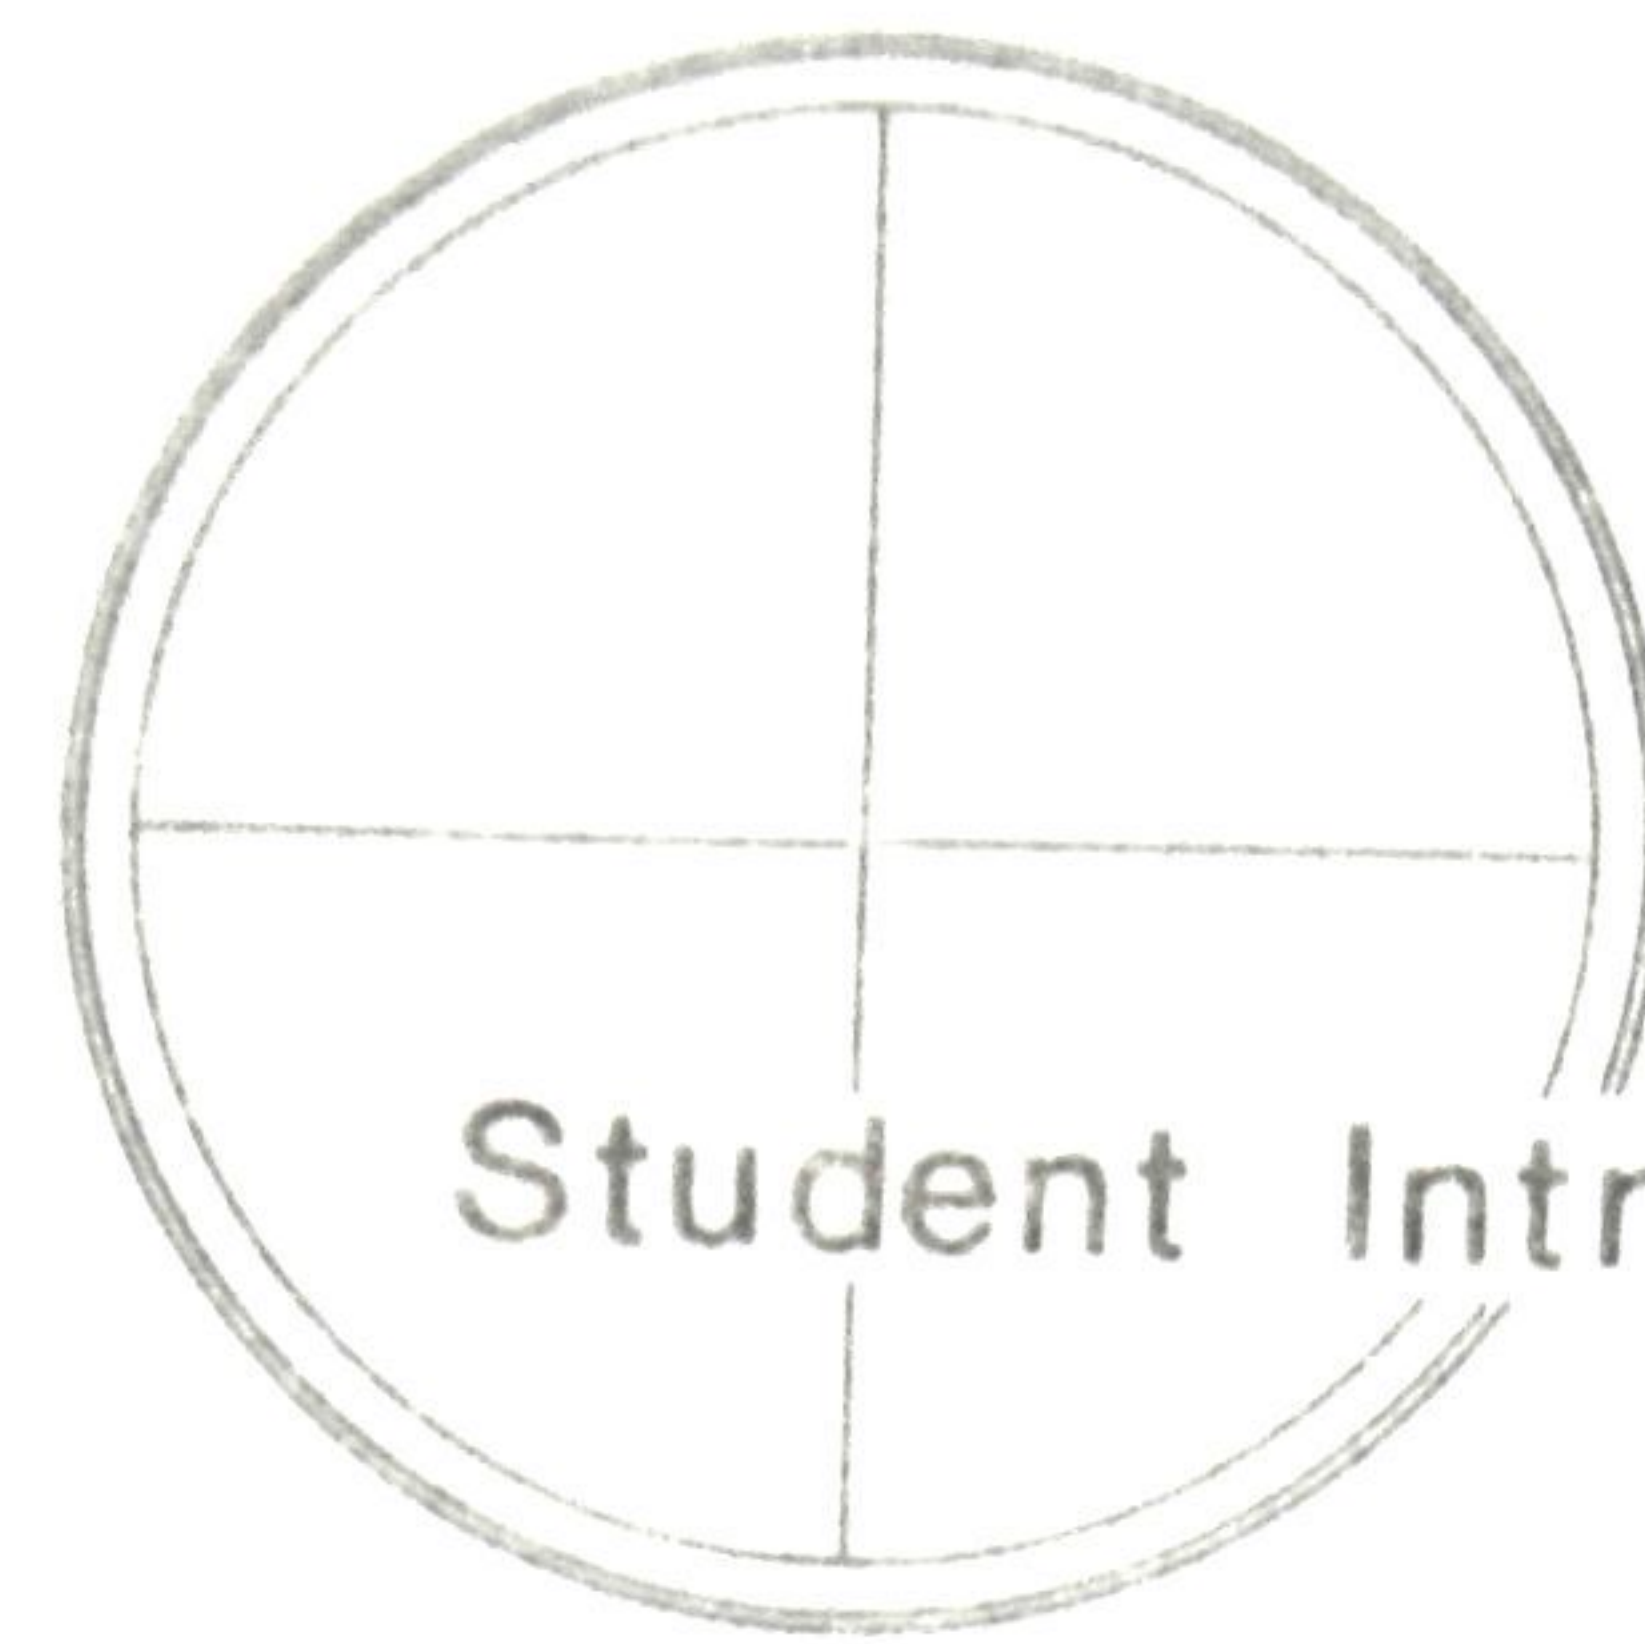

Professor Herbert Brun

School of Music

University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign

With Musical Ideas to the Computer and Back

QUESTION AND ANSWER SESSION

SITE

Student Introduction to Engineering

Menu

BAKED CHICKEN

WHIPPED POTATOES

BUTTERED MIXED VEGETABLES

MOLDED FRUIT SALAD

HOT ROLLS

COTTAGE PUDDING WITH STRAWBERRIES

BEVERAGE

Companies Participating in SITE

American Oil Company

Ford Motor Company

Chicago Bridge and Iron Company

Zenith Radio Corporation

Motorola, Inc.

Monsanto Company

Deere and Company

Beckman Instruments, Inc.

McDonnell-Douglas Corporation

International Business Machines

Caterpillar Tractor Company

Stewart-Warner Corporation

Burlington Lines

Delco Radio Division

Bell Telephone Laboratories

General Foods Corporation

United Aircraft Company